Freezing Temperatures Over PRICE CHANGES IRREGULAR WEATHER HAS BEARISH IN STOCK MART OPENING

New York, April 25.—Price changes at the irregular opening of todays stock nurbet were again sonfusing. Advances of 1 to 2½ points in 'luif States Steel, Sumatra Tobacco, Distillers, International Paper, Cotton Oil and Virginia-Carolina Chemical were balanced by a loss of 2% points in Royal Dutch Oil and fractional recessions in United States Steel, the motors, coppers and active equipments. Dealings were 'ight, the early lack of war news causing further restraint. Liberly bonds were easier.

Pressure against high-grade specialties developed in the afternoon. General Motors and Industrial Alcohol lost 2 points each and Malting preferred 3 points. Ralls were only occasionally quoted and standard industrials moved within very contracted limits.

LIVERPOOL MEETS COTTON Jim Larimore, of Beaver Club, BREAK OF YESTERDAY

New York, April 25.—There was re-newed activity and excitement in the cot-ton market early today. Nothing further was heard regarding the increased offerwas heard regarding the increased offerings of spots and reselling by exporters, rumors of which had unsettled sentiment late yesterday. There were May notices issued for between 10,000 and 12,000 bales, however, Liverpool more than met yesterday's local break, and the opening here was irregular at a decline of 10 to 65 points under continued liquidation. May showed the maximum loss at the start, selling at 27.75c on the call, while a little later July broke to 27.05c, making declines of 60 to 65 points on the old-crop positions. Selling of new-crop months may have been held in check to some extent by yesterday's less-favorable crop advices, but October broke to 26.30c. or 35 points net lower. Liverpool was a heavy early seller. Much of the buying on the decline was attributed to covering by Wall street and western shorts.

Many messages were received from the south denying rumors of increased spot offerings, but railles of 15 to 20 points met pressure from one source or another and the market was very weak late in the morning. July sold at 25.70c and October at 25.90c, with active months generally showing net losses of about 75 to 105 points.

Trade buying of July and October wave

erally showing net losses of about 75 to 105 points.

Trade buying of July and October gave the market rather a steadler tone during the noon hour, but there was scattered southern selling of July, supposedly against actual spot, and prices broke again during the afternoon. New low ground was reached by all months, with July selling at 26.17c and October at 25.55c, or 110 to 148 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON. NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, April 25.—The circulation of May notices caused heavy selling of cotton here today, under which the market lost 39 to 54 points in the first half-hour. It was estimated that total tenders here were under 1,000 bales, and the market was affected sentimentally by them rather than by their weight.

Selling increased and toward noon active months were 86 to 117 points under yesterday's final prices, July showing the widest loss. War news was viewed unfavorably.

BONDS OF GYPSIES

Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus Heard-Deny Charges of Attempted Kidnap.

The bonds of Annie Miller, Alexander Miller and Nellie McGrill, the three gypsies charged with an attempt to kidnap the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Long several days ago, were reduced to $500 each Thursday morning, after a thorough hearing had been given the defendants on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge McReynolds, in reducing the bonds, said that he did not think the two women and the man had meant to kidnap the little girl, but believed that they did take hold of the nurse in ordinary gypsy fashion, as is their custom in telling fortunes.

The judge stated that it was nothing unusual for gypsies to run up and grab any one and vigorously insist on The bonds of Annie Miller, Alex-

The defendants were represented by George D. Lancaster and O. G. Stone, and the plaintiff by Frank S. Carden and Judge M. M. Allison. It is thought that some amicable settlement will be made by the counsel and the affair

After the nurse of the Longs had testified Thursday, the little daughter, a beautiful child of 4 years, was taken to the stand. Judge McReynolds left the bench and came down to the witness stand where the child was sitting with her mother and said to her: "I have a little girl like you." Then the little child brightened up and smiled at her mother and father and then at the judge. "Did any one try to hurt you?" asked Judge McReynolds. Then a frown came on her face and her eyes flashed as she turned in her mother's lap to the three defendants sitting behind the bar dressed in typical fashion. She never gave answer, but the look told more than she could have stated. The women then took the stand and enled the attempt at kidnaping em-

CASE NEXT FRIDAY

Will Face Jury Friday. Gambler Pleads Guilty.

Final report of the grand jury for the April term of the United States district court for the southern division of the East Tennessee district was made Thursday just b fore the noon adjournment. The grand jury's report contained six inwere in bound-over cases. Court attendants have been watching the reports of the jury with a great deal of interest and much speculation w s indulged as to thether the name of Sam Jones, of the Beavers' club, was included in the final report. The jury was dis-missed subject to call of the court. Indictments returned in bound-over cases were: J. R. Hixon and Ollie Ayers. charged with bringing whisky into a dry state in violation of the Reed amendment. Dr. Henry Fuehrer and G. W. Fillauer, violation of Harrison narcotic law.

When the case of M. C. Raulston, prominent Marion county farmer charged with having violated the selective service law, was called in federal court Thursday morning the gov-ernment announced that it was not ready for trial. District Attorney W. T. Kennerly stated that important affidavtis in the case had been misplaced and that it would take some time to secure this information from the local exemption board and from the district appeal board.

Attorney B. H. Tatum, who is repesenting the defendant, stated that his client was ready for trial and op-Expectations of lower spot prices carried the weakness into the afternoon session. At 1 o'clock the trading months were 103 to 151 points under yesterday's final prices.

Dosed the government's motion for a continuance. Mr. Tatum said the defense was ready to admit the existence of the affiadvits in question and did not deny that Mr. Raulston had all of the prices that he filed an affidavit to the effect that he was engaged in agriculture, on which ground the local board and the district board exempted defendant from military service. The attorney offered to turn all the papers in the possession of the defense over to the government for its use, explaining that the defense had brought some eighteen or twenty witnesses from Marion county. defense will endeavor, according to Mr. Tatum, to prove that the affidavit filed by young Raulston is true in every particular. Judge Sanford re-fused to grant a continuance and set the case for Friday.

Mr. Raulston is a member of a very prominent Marion county family. While attorneys for the defense are reticent about discussing the case while it is pending in court, it is un-derstood that the defendant claims it is merely a case of personal spite and that he was entitled to exemption on the showing made in his question-naire and the affidavits attached thereto, which he claims to be true.

Johnson Case Mistrial.

A mistrial resulted in the case of W. H. Johnson, colored, charged with selling liquor to soldiers in uniform, the jury failing to agree after two hours' deliberation. The Johnson case was heard Wednesday afternoon and given Liverpool, April 25.—Cotton spot quiet, prices lower. Good middling, 22.89d; to the jury about 3 o'clock. Johnson's middling, 22.17d; low middling, 21.64d; defense was that he had merely proceed ordinary, 20164d. Sales, 4.000 bales, cured the whisky for the soldiers, and this is not in violation of federal law. The prosecution charged that in reality he had sold the whisky, and it is understood that it was on this question the jury failed to agree.

Woman Sentenced. Mrs. Tom Maxwell, aged Athens on a bootlegging charge, was given a fine of $100 and sentenced to thirty REDUCED BY COURT fine of $100 and sentenced to the days in the McMinn county jail. She was allowed to go to Athens unattended by a deputy and will begin her sentence immediately.

Two cases against Jim Walker, charged with selling whisky to soldiers, were set for hearing Saturday.

Professional "Crap Shooter."

W. H. Bates, charged with having unlawfully worn the uniform of a soldier of the United States army, faced the judge and pleaded not guilty. He later entered a plea of guilty, through his attorney, Senator W. H. Cummings, and was given the maximum penalty of six months in the Hamilton county jail. District Attorney Kennerly asked the full penalty for Bates, stating that the latter had arrayed himself in uniform for the purpose of hanging around cantonments and following his chosen avocation, that of a professional gambler. Mr. Kennerly said that at the time of his arrest Bates had in his possession several pairs of loaded dice and a marked deck of cards. Senator Cummings was in court Thursday for the first time this week, several cases in which he is interested as attorney having been postponed earlier in the week to allow him to finish his

The grand jury indictments refurned at noon Thursday are believed to have contained the names of others onnected with the same club. M. R. and A. C. Richardson, charged with selling liquor to soldiers, changed a plea of not guilty to guilty. Both are residents of Chattaneoga and were taken in by Capt, Kern's men. A. C. Richardson has recently joined the Fifty-first infantry and his attorney asked that he be allowed to remain with the with this company pending good be-havior. However, the district attorney entered a strenuous objection to this and said the Richardsons were among the worst offenders in the bootlegging line with which the provost guard had come in contact. M. R. Richardson, according to his attorney, had made arrangements for his wife to remain with her people and he expected to be included in the next call. But the judge turned a deaf ear to this plea and sentenced both men to six months cre merely attempting to tell the urse's fortune when she ran off and them. In another case M. R. # ROTARIANS NOMINATE THEIR NEXT PRESIDENT

Members of the Rotary club at their meeting Thursday agreed by unanimous vote to co-operate with the Shriners of Chattanooga in helping to make their minstrel, "The Jollies of 1918," a success. The club agreed to take 200 tickets to one or more of the take 200 tickets to one or more of the performances, a committee being appointed to arrange for the attendance of the members of the club and their families in a body, a section of the theater to be reserved for this purpose. The committee having in charge the arrangement consists of Jack O'Donohue, chairman; Baxter Bender, "Dummy" Rule, Staley Greever and C. A. Young. This act of the club was in the nature of a return of the assistance rendered by the Shriners, who were the first to subscribe for a block ance rendered by the Shriners, who were the first to subscribe for a block of tickets for Rotary's play, "The Man of the 'Hour." As the funds derived from the Shriners' performance are to be used for war work and charity and along the same lines as that of the Ro-
